

SEPTEMBER NEWS: Cheers to Partnership and Productivity!

A Note From Our Founder:

We all know that many hands make light work. Teamwork and collaboration build capacity and boost productivity. This is especially true for nonprofits and social enterprises, and it's true for Blue Fox, too. We love helping our clients one-on-one but we're also always looking for ways to add widespread value to the social sector with our content and services.

To that end, we are excited to announce that Blue Fox has joined forces with Bill.com, Bloomerang and Hive to share our industry-leading knowledge with a larger audience through their blogs. Our first three articles are live, and we'd love to hear what you think!

- How to Wow at Your Next Board Meeting: 4 Tips for Meaningful Money Conversations
- 5 Reasons Bill.com + QBO Together = A/P Victory

Thanks to our new partners, our voice and educational reach is growing every day. And this is just the beginning. I'm living the nerdy dream – and can't wait to see what change we can make together.
